KPT is a specialist in high quality, high volume variable printing and complete mail services. Our outsourcing expertise saves you time, reduces your costs and enhances your image

KPT was founded in early 1977 by Nancy Creamer Pyka, now President Emeritus, and Kurt J. Pyka, now CEO and Chairman of the Board. At its inception, they envisioned KPT to be a responsive resource for high quality, computerized print production in the Southwestern United States.

KPT started in the Dallas Fort Worth area as K-Print-Tronics, one of the first electronic service bureaus of its kind. Having relocated now three times to accommodate its needs for growth, KPT now resides in a one story, wholly owned structure that is approximately 50,000 square feet. With over 65 full time employees and three production shifts, KPT provides an extensive range of services from data processing to laser imaging to distribution.

KPT's focus is on critical, first class mail applications, specifically billing fulfillment. The target markets for KPT are telecom and utilities as deregulation has expanded opportunities for outsourcing in these markets. As KPT moves towards becoming a market leader in these industries, an expansion into strategic alliances with software vendors will grow as well. These alliances, coupled with KPT's fulfillment, will allow a fully integrated end to end billing solution for clients.
